

RADIO RAM – English zone (Strefa Angielskiego) Episode 1

Terry: Do you like going on holiday, Nick?

Nick: Of course I do – sun, fresh air, beautiful women – but not in England – here in Poland.

Terry: Well, it's holiday season now in Poland. Many people are planning where to spend their holidays. Where do people generally go, Nick?

Nick: Well, a lot of people decide to go to the mountains.

Terry: Not 'to mountain'?

Nick: No, in English we say 'to the mountains'. For example, Karpacz is in the mountains. I'm going to the mountains next week.

Terry: And where else?

Nick: Another popular choice is the Polish seaside.

Terry: 'on the seaside'?

Nick: Well, no. It's 'to the seaside' or 'to the coast'. For example, I'm going to the seaside tomorrow. We're going to Mielno.

Terry: Mielno – party, party, party?

Nick: It was an example.

Terry: OK and...

Nick: the other popular place is to a lake.

Terry: Not, to the lake?

Nick: No, to a lake – one of many lakes in particular.

Terry: OK, so for example, I'm going to a lake this weekend, it's called Mielkówek.

Nick: Well, I wouldn't go there...

Terry: It was just an example...

Nick: So, do you have any favourite places?

Terry: Yes, in the mountains, I really like Łądek Zdrój – because it sounds like my hometown, London. At the seaside, I really like 'Jarosławiec'. It has cliffs, a small port and a lighthouse. And when it comes to lakes, I really like Mielkówek – I mean the Mazurian lake district.

OK, Let's sum up

You can:

- a) Go the mountains - and 'be in the mountains'
- b) Go to the seaside- and 'be by the seaside'
- c) Go to a lake- and 'be by a lake'
